

French doors

Double opening french doors may be designed to open inwards or outwards as best suits your interior layout.

For opening out doors traditional cabin hooks may be fitted wherever possible to enable the doors to be fixed open, perhaps to enjoy a view of the garden on a pleasant afternoon.

The master door is fitted with multi-point locking mechanisms to Association of British Insurers Approved standards featuring hook bolts and deadlock, whilst the slave door is fitted with strong, unobtrusive flush bolts. All french doors are hung on fully adjustable hinges that are colour co-ordinated with the handle and door threshold.
